The hoax label moved faster than the file.

Then we found the name they buried: N-7.

23:17 hours.
Routine perimeter sweep.

The patrol expected
trespassers.

Sergeant Voss saw fear before threat.

N-7 spoke first:
'Do not shoot.'

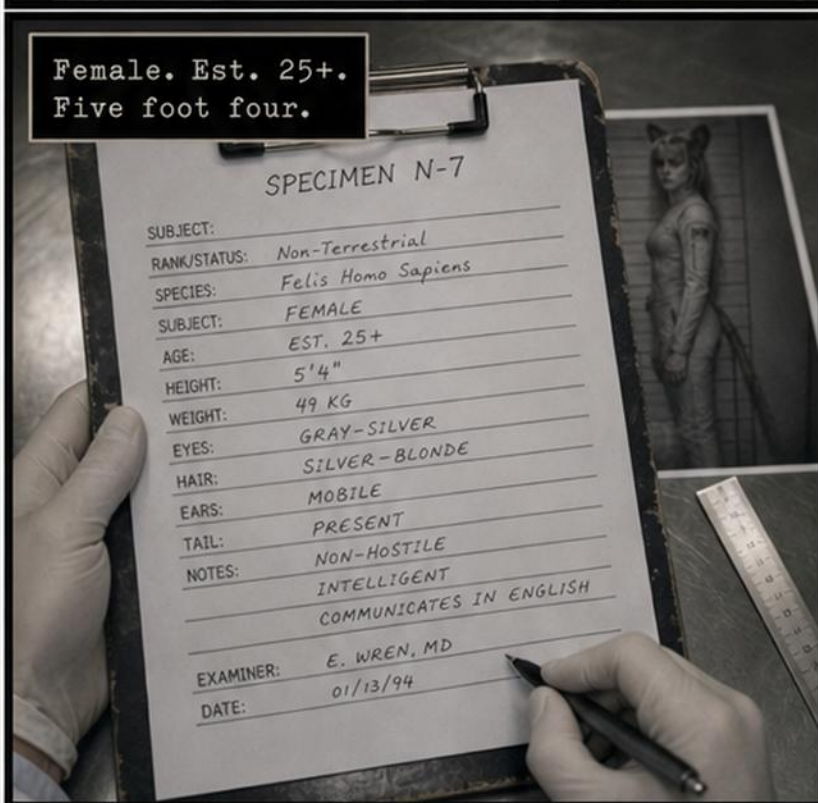

That was the sentence
the report could not survive.

They measured her like evidence.

Female. Est. 25+.
Five foot four.

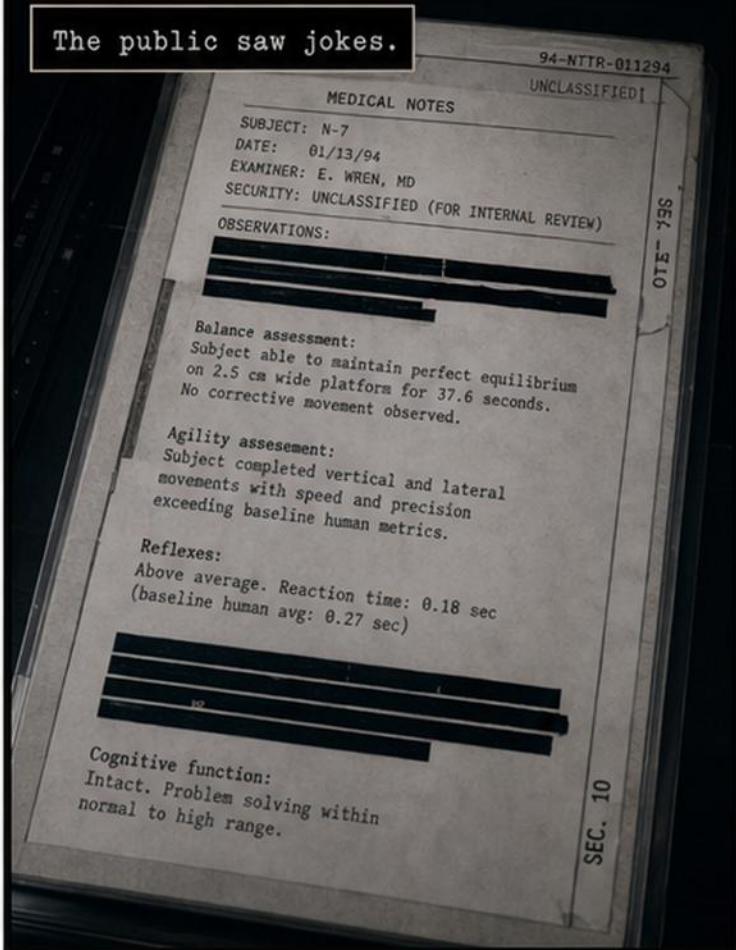

Wren wrote: intelligent,
non-hostile, communicates in English.

She understood every word.

The public saw jokes.

The notes recorded unusual balance and agility.

The interview recorded fluent English.

The witness statements recorded empathy.

The file did not disappear. It moved.

Witnesses were corrected.

Doctors were reminded.

Then the laugh track did the rest.

Here is the frame they wanted gone.

A person, not a punchline.

Let them say hoax. That was always the plan.
