

Probably Dreaming

Issue #1: Bite Me at 4:30

A zombie knocks.
Jet opens.

Probably Dreaming

1. Jet Black treats weird days like lucid dreams.

2. When Lucid Light works, he bends the dream.

3. When it does not, he searches for a Lucid Conduit.

4. Normal always returns. The evidence usually stays.

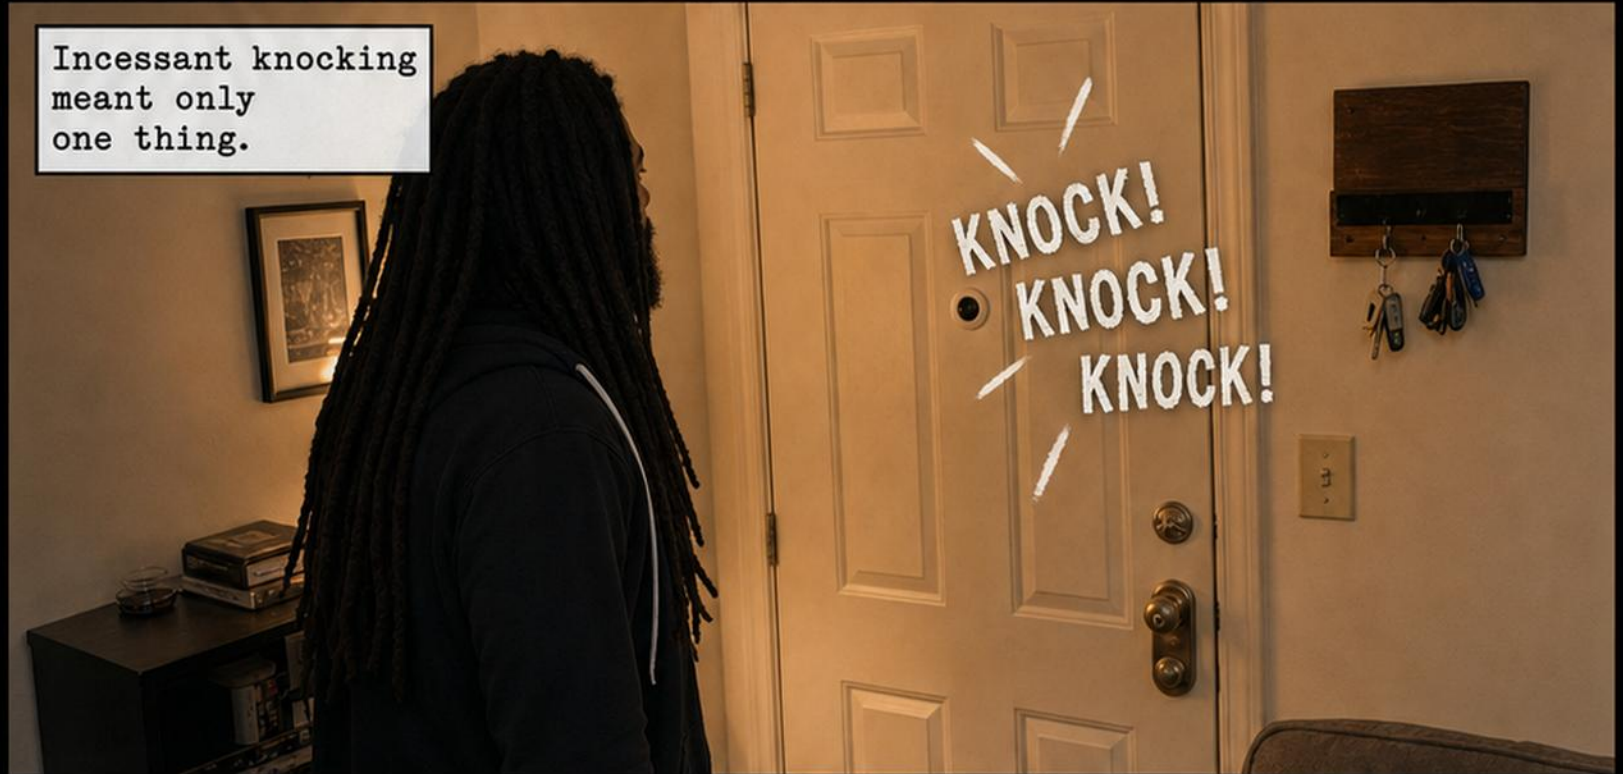

Jet was writing a comic when the knocking started.

KNOCK!
KNOCK!

Incessant knocking meant only one thing.

KNOCK!
KNOCK!
KNOCK!

Definitely dreaming.

Come bite me.

He only needed the bite.

Brain stays off the menu.

One careful headlock later...

Alas, poor zombie.

No brain
hunger arrived.

Jet only ate once a day.

Breakfast is 4:30.

Lame.

The apocalypse was slower than expected.

In lucid dreams,
Jet used Lucid Light.

He pictured the head floating.

The light
did not answer.

Okay.
Conduit hunt.

A conduit was probably outside.

So were the uninfected.

The head panicked.

Shh. Indoor voice.

You hear that?

Jet muffled the evidence.

The door waited.

Then the footsteps moved on.

Across Huntsville,
a cure found
the air.

The serum fed the emergency steam.

Blue fog returned the city to normal.

Mostly normal.

Wild dream.
